Sugarcane Research Program Surprises Foreign Visitors

Joseph M. Mizzi, from Brighton, Queensland, Australia, and president of the Churchhill Fellowship Group in Australia, was a visitor this week at the USDA Sugarcane Harvesting Laboratory to study methods of cultivation and harvesting of sugarcane in the U.S.

The Fellowship is a 14-year-old group which takes in Hawaii, Mexico, Louisiana, Florida, Jamaica and Puerto Rico and includes the cane areas at each of these stops.

"Australia just don't realize the extent of cane development in harvesting and research in the United States," said Mizzi, "which I find to be outstanding."

Looking over the size of some of the machinery now under testing at the center, Mizzi said that "in Australia, we don't have the choice of sizes that you do and it is not until you build our harvesters around the size time available."

In Australia, cane harvesting cost 50 per cent more by machine than manual because of labor shortage, said Mizzi, "machines are lighter and do not cut the same quantity of cane as machines in the U.S."

Everything is on a much smaller scale in Australia, said Mizzi, however even though our tractors are smaller and the yield is much smaller, the methods of cultivation and harvesting are similar.

In U.S., mills are about 100 to 150 per cent more than in Australia, but it is acceptable, while in Australia only 3 per cent is permitted before a penalty charge is made.

Conducting the tour here was Joe Clayton, who when asked about having methods said that operation of harvesters was checked with high-speed photography and a power measurement was used on devices.

In the area Mizzi came from, 24 million tons of cane are harvested each year. The cane belt in Australia itself extends northward from Brisbane to Mossman, except for a small area south of Brisbane, which is harvested manually, and continues up to 40 miles inland from having the first protected area provided by the coast.

Other visitors to the Sugarcane Harvesting Laboratory in Louisiana who attended the Field-Day, March 11, were: Cary Iron Works, Opelousas; Thomson Machinery Co., Thibodaux; Cane Machinery and Engineering Company (CAM-BOO) Thibodaux; J. & L. Engineering Company, Inc., Jeanerette; Raymond Machine Company, St. Martinville.

Joe Clayton points out improvements on sugar cane harvesters to J. M. Mizzi, from Australia.

Better Health Topic of Conference

Providing better health services to migratory agricultural workers is the concern of over 200 persons who will attend the Eastern States Migratory Health Conference in Orlando, Florida, March 28 through 31.

Organized by the U.S. Public Health Service, the meeting will focus on the problem of making health care available to the 600,000 migrants who travel along the Eastern Seaboard.

Participants from eleven

States will include representatives of national, state and local governments, voluntary organizations, migrant health projects and growers' associations.

Gov. Claude Kirk said Dr. Wilton E. Sower, Florida State Health Officer, will address conferees at the opening session. Subjects to be covered at the general sessions will include long range plans for improving rural health and continuity of health care for migrants through interstate referrals. A review of government and community programs with potential for assisting the migrant will also be presented.

Small working sessions will concentrate on such specific topics as migrant housing, involvement, the use of community aids in social projects, hospitalization, transportation, food-for-service medical care, and evaluation of projects.

Talent Night To Kickoff 15th Annual Harvest Queen Contest

55 Beauties Entered

The 15th annual Harvest Queen Contest will kick off tonight with a talent show at 8 o'clock in the Belle Glade High School Gym. Fifty-five contestants between the ages of 16 and 21 throughout western Palm Beach County, mostly from Belle Glade and Pahokee, will vie for top honors.

Friday night will feature the beauty contest at 8 o'clock, followed on Saturday by the Adult Coronation Ball from 9 p.m. till 2 a.m. at the new Elks Club Building. Music for the ball will be furnished by Peter Chase, who has played with Von Monroe and Bob Crosby, and is the former owner of the bowling alley here.

The Teen Coronation Ball will be held Saturday, 9 p.m. till 1 a.m. at the Junior High Cafeteria featuring the music of the Combination Squares from Miami. Punch and refreshments will be served.

Bob Lee will be the emcee Friday night. Plans have been made to have the contest televised by Channel 5 and run Monday night from 8 to 11 p.m. with Gary Dean as M.C., while the entire contest will be broadcast live on WSWN-TV Friday.

The Queen is chosen on the basis of the beauty contest in formal attire only. Contestants are Janice Fieles and Jeanette Cameron.

Reigning Queen who will crown the new queen is Aggie Greeninger.

There will be five judges for the beauty contest and three for the talent contest. The talent contest is separate and the winner entitled Miss Talent.

Reigning Miss Talent, Joanne Harris, will perform, but not be a contestant, however, she is a contestant in the Beauty Contest.

The contestants have voted on a Miss Congeniality and she will be announced Friday night.

All 55 girls will go before the judges who will eliminate all but 15. The 15 will then be cut down to eight. The eight will be asked a question and the two runners-up and Queen chosen from them, said Ray Ashton, Jaycee Committee Co-Chairman for the program. Admission for both contests is adults $1.50 and students 75c.

The stage will be decorated with fresh vegetables and the setting is kept as a surprise.

Biggest difference between this year and last is that the activities are held on three consecutive nights, whereas before the talent show and contest have been one Saturday with the dances the following Saturday. The Jaycees hope eventually to have a week long harvest festival.

This is the only contest in the state that has so many entrants and can handle them all in one night, said Ashton.

Some of the prizes for the Queen will be a trip to the Bahamas, a wardrobe gift certificate from the Red Shutter, a trophy and a free modeling course from Maeh-Murphy Class in Palm Beach.

A reception for the judges will be held at the Holiday Inn prior to the contest. Donations for the dances will be Adult $10 couple, Teen $3 couple. Contact J. D. (Willie) Lee III for invitations.

Elks Dedicate New Home Following Barbecue Dinner

From the two serving tables above, Elks and guests filled their plates with chicken, corn-on-the-cob, and other foods.

Over 300 Elks and their wives and guests, representing 11 Florida cities, attended the historic dedication ceremony of the new B.P.O.E. Lodge No. 1716, Southeast First Street and Avenue E, Friday night.

Prior to the dedication of the new lodge was the National Grand Exalted Ruler, Robert E. Boney and his wife. The couple are currently on a tour of Florida.

John H. Crouse, Exalted Ruler of the Belle Glade lodge, welcomed guests and introduced Boney who reported on some of the Elks' national projects he had visited on his tour. Prior to Boney's address was the dedication ritual, during which time symbolic blocks representing charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity were placed one upon the other with the ceremonial Elks head on top and the American flag to the right.

Boney was presented the key to the city by Mayor Lorenzo Conant. Matching authentic Seminole jackets for Boney and his wife were given by the local lodge.

Proceeding the ceremonies was a barbecue chicken dinner with corn-on-the-cob, baked beans, cold slaw and various desserts prepared by the ladies of the Elks.

Rogers' Bill Tightens Bond Restrictions

Congressman Paul Rogers today introduced legislation to tighten up the Federal bail bond statutes dealing with persons charged with capital crimes or the use of a deadly weapon.

Basically, Rogers' bill denies bail to anyone charged with an offense punishable by death or an offense involving the use of a deadly or dangerous weapon.

An offshoot of the bill requires a judicial officer to consider a defendant's potential danger to society while determining if a defendant should be released before trial.

Rogers was quick to add that he would also call for speedy disposition of cases where the defendant was held without bond, but backed up his purposes for introducing the bill with figures indicating the need for such legislation.

"Crime in the nation is on the upswing. The latest figures released by the FBI are alarming," Rogers said. "Serious assaults where a gun was used as the weapon rose 22 percent."

"One out of every 5 assaults was committed with a gun," Rogers said. "The crime of armed robbery on the street rose 30 percent, and in 58 percent of all robberies, a firearm was used."

Miss Talent '67 Tells About Last Contest

The Joyce-sponsored Talent Show contest (Thursday, March 28) at 8 p.m. will feature 15 girls this year, according to James Alford, Dramatic Coach at the Palmetto High School, directing the show.

Last year's Talent Show winner, lovely Joanne Harris, a Drama and Music student, gives her biography.

"Born in Jacksonville, Fla., I moved to Belle Glade at the age of 2 1/2 years. I have attended school in Belle Glade and am a senior at Palmetto High School. When I was asked to write my biography, I wondered just where to begin. I will just give a little of my background on why I entered the talent contest last year."

When I was four years old I began taking dancing lessons, singing in my church choir and drumming of becoming a famous actress, just as many little girls do. This, I suppose, was the beginning of my performing in front of an audience in music and in the sixth grade I began taking band, playing a clarinet.

At the age of 12 I attended Camp Cretaceous for Girls in Ridgeway, N.C., and started taking drama lessons and singing popular songs as well as religious songs. For the last five years I have been going to Cretaceous for five weeks of each summer and learning more and more about drama and music.

I had attended the two Harvest Queen talent contests previously and the thought entered my mind, what did I have to present if I were to enter the contest next year. So I went to camp again that summer to take drama, and singing along with other activities. When the closing of the season comes a program is usually presented by the Drama Class. The music at "My Fair Lady" was chosen and I was fortunate enough to JOANNE HARRIS was picked to play the leading role of Eliza Doolittle. This was the most exciting and rewarding moment of my life and as far as I am concerned, this gave me the opportunity to use the experience and desire I need to continue the study of music and drama.

My question of what I could present had been answered and by rewriting a script and changing some of the lyrics from the musical program, I composed my own version of "My Fair Lady."

I can't really express the feelings that I experienced while presenting my talent, but I wouldn't have traded places with anyone in the world at that moment. The joy and satisfaction I received from entertaining a group of people and knowing that they enjoyed what I did, was the finest reward I could ever receive.

Since the contest last year, I have been taking voice lessons from Mrs. Esther Wedger and I am truly grateful for the help she has given me in training my voice.

I hope to further my learning in voice and drama when I enter college next fall. My major will be in nursing and "Miss Talent" has been a wonderful experience and I am grateful to everyone who has helped me attain this reward.

AREA FISHING REPORT

Good fishing was enjoyed in the Glades again last week, with both bass and specks hitting real well. There were many limit and near limit catches of specks over the weekend, most of these being taken on live bait.

Stuart Crane and Dr. Vic Lacey, Boca Raton, reported 7 bass on Friday up to 7 1/2 pounds. These fishermen were using Johnson Spoon with pork rind.

Cross officials will be contacting major corporate givers in hopes of quickly raising the needed funds, but the announcement of the campaign provides the average citizen with another opportunity to have an impact on the conflict and the servicemen.

Red Cross workers help provide a much needed personal contact with home for servicemen in Vietnam and elsewhere throughout the world. The organization arranges emergency leave, provides resumption in moments of crisis, supplies emergency loans, helps with recreational and rehabilitation projects and, in general, tries to show the fighting men that they need not sacrifice their humanity.

The war in Vietnam has a record, as have events in our nation's history, every conceivable shade of opinion and all of the varying degrees. But even those who have grave reservations about either in its moral or military viability can in one aspect join wholeheartedly with those who believe that the U. S. is making the right course, both morally and militarily.

American troops are fighting in Vietnam in response to orders from their government. They are suffering casualties thousands of miles from home. There is no rear echelon in Vietnam.

The Red Cross provides a channel through which suffering on the part of the individual servicemen may be alleviated in one degree or another. The organization involves itself not in military philosophies or tactics but rather concerns itself with the undeniable fact of human want and human suffering.

This is an appeal that goes straight to the American heart. It should be given a generous and affirmative answer — Mail donations to P. O. Box 981, Belle Glade.

publicando la pasada semana por el Everglades Experiment Station. El ganado "criollo" de origen Español, pueblo nómada de la Florida por 400 años, destruyeron un animal que puede sobrevivir de los pastos naturales en la Florida al este.

El primer ganado Brangus, de raza Bos Indicus, fue traído a la Florida hace unos 30 años y cruzado con el salvaje "criollo" de sabana Bos Taurus, produciendo un híbrido un 50% mayor en su madurez que sus antepasados, aumentando de 600 a 900 libras de peso en una generación.

La raza Brangus se volvió muy popular y muy vendida de manera que el ganado se hizo hoy en día en el Everglades. Casi todo el ganado de la Florida es una mezcla Brangus, pero las generaciones Brangus que siguieron al primer cruce no continuaron su trabajo.

Toros Angus y Hereford fueron estocados durante varios años en la Florida por los criadores de pura raza. El primer cruce resultó de nuevo exitoso, pero hubo un desmayo de peso en los terrenos en las siguientes generaciones.

Crucen de ganados... El cruce de razas debe ser usado al cruzar de pura raza, desmenuzando un constante mer para ser toros. Cuando un pura-sangre es vendido a otro criador de pura-sangre, la gente de la raza de la COSECHA, o Harvest Queen 1968.

RAINBOW HISTORY

"The International Order of Rainbow for Girls was really started back in 1945," by Brother Joseph Rankin Cherry who must have seen the low in the clouds, for when he heard about the wonderful order for girls he wanted to get one started.

So he contacted Dad Clark, who was supreme deputy of the State of Ohio at that time to see what had to be done. Brother Cherry and his wife, Aleese, who became the first Mother Advisor of the state of Florida and Dad Clark, put in many hours of love & service and with the Belle Glade Masonic Lodge No. 273 at night son they were well on their way.

Belle Glade Assembly was instituted in November 3, 1945 by Dad Clark, Supreme Deputy of Ohio, and on March 24, 1946 they received their charter from Supreme Assembly in McAlister, Oklahoma, as that time there was no grand assembly in Florida. Grand Assembly first proceeding was in December of 1947.

In 1947 the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star voted to assist the Order of Rainbow for Girls. Sister Manie Lander, was most Worthy Grand Matron, at the time and also worked very hard to further the order.

Tonight we need to give thanks to God for Brother Joe Cherry and his wife, Aleese and Dad Clark, and the Belle Glade Masonic Lodge and many others who did set their bow in the clouds and gave so many girls a chance to know what a beautiful way to live when they join Rainbow and learn their wonderful lesson."

Mrs. Lonan Stubbs of Ozark, Arkansas arrived Monday night for a visit with brother and sister in South Bay and Belle Glade.

The following Past Matrons and Patrons were introduced: Sister Eula Pennington, Madge Taylor, Margaret Royals, Jo Asper, Mildred Brown, Jeanie McKinstry, Beulah Simmons, Adeline Wroten, Evelyn Allen and W. J. Norris, Past Patron.

Reports were made by Mrs. Evelyn Allen and Mrs. Vina Johnson of the activities of the chapter for the past year. Especially impressive was Mrs. Johnson's report of the treasury balance as compared with one year ago.

Gifts of a Masonic Emblem were presented to Brother Johnson and a Scrapbook of her year's activities to Mrs. Johnson.

Honorary gifts shined at Easter bonnets were presented to Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Sapp, and Mrs. Barnes.

During a special election, Elgie Johnson was elected, treasurer of the Order for the forthcoming year.

Sister DeGraw announced the chairman of the committee of welcoming, Sister and Distress, Relief, By-Laws, Finance, and Publicity.

The refreshment committee composed of Mrs. Arvie Mathis, Purry Royals, and D. B. Mathis served refreshments of lemon filling cake, chocolate, cake, coffee, and nuts.

Thirty-three persons attended the meeting.

Driver Re-exam Law Explained By Kirkman

TALLAHASSEE — Colonel H. N. Kirkman, Director of the Department of Public Safety, today corrected some misapprehensions about Florida's new driver re-examination law by stating that no driving test, traffic law test or medical examination will be required.

In response to many inquiries about the law which was passed in the 1967 session of the legislature but did not become effective until 1971 Kirkman said:

"Drivers must pass tests in reading, hearing and vision in road and understand highway signs only."

"Even with these limited tests valuable results are expected from discovering and placing under corrective regulations the drivers with vision and hearing defects," Kirkman said.

In Florida's readiness to not grant a license for inspection. Drivers are restricted to operating vehicles equipped with outside rearview mirrors.

Under the new system, which starts January 1, 1971, it will take four years to bring the state's drivers. Each driver will then be re-examined every three years thereafter.

"While this is a limited program in some respects," Kirkman concluded, "it will help keep unskilled drivers from reviving and holding licenses."

CLIP THIS AD. GOOD FOR ONE (1) FREE ADMISSION—Thursday at 8:00 p.m. in a show room regular adult admission.

Loan Received For New Farm Labor Housing

A $250,000 insured loan at 5% interest to San-Sen Farm Labor Foundation, Inc., by the First National Bank and Trust Company of Lake Worth has been approved by the Farmers Home Administration, reports William T. Shadick, State Director.

"This place will be neat and nice so people can live and be comfortable. It will have a playground for children and the grounds added just like my own home," says Sam Smier, owner of San-Sen Farms, speaking of the proposed housing for farm laborers in the Glades area.

Construction of the project will provide 4600 man-days of labor for mason, electrician, plumber, carpenter, roofer, and other construction workers. Some thirty people will be employed in the project.

W. B. Copeland of Jacksonville is the new chairman of the Glades and Fresh Water Fish Commission. He was appointed to the commission by former Gov. Haydon Burns in 1965.

SEN. ELMER O. FRIDAY
The decision to offer for reelection to the State Senate was not an easy one, considering the extreme demands on family, law practice and business in the last several years. Largest Election Year Shaping Up

This year 1968 will be one of the largest elections year Palm Beach County has ever had. New residents are crowding the registration office to register for the first time in this county.

The registration office located in the Glades Office Building will remain open two Saturdays for the benefit of those people who cannot get into this office during regular office hours. The office will be open Saturday, March 30th and Saturday, April 6th, the date the books close for the primaries.

The registration books will remain closed from April 6th until June 3rd for the May primaries.

After April 6th changes may not be made in party affiliations until after the November general election, in other words changes must be made between the primary and general election.

New precincts and new voting machines have been added to eliminate the long lines that have occurred before on election days.

Florida Baptist Plans Fall Opening

First classes for Florida Baptist College will be held this fall on the campus of the First Baptist Church in West Palm Beach.

This was announced Friday by Dr. Jen Moody, Chairman of the board of trustees, who also announced that Dr. John Carter has been appointed executive vice president of the college.

Dr. Carter resigned as president of Campbellville College, Campbellville, Ky., to accept the administrative role in the new college because, as he puts it, "This is the most exciting challenge in higher education that I have ever seen and I want to be a part of it."

At the news conference was Amos Jackson, chairman of the board of the Palm Beach Development Board who said, "This is a real letter day for Palm Beach County. We look forward to helping you in any way possible in the building of this great college."

Dr. Moody announced that the philosophy of the college will be centered around "the three w's" — world, work, women. The board chairman, in explaining the creed said that students will be required to work at least 10 hours a week either on or off campus. "We are interested in the co-ordination of the total person. We will seek poverty pockets in the area and help refurbish these areas. We want to become a servant institution of our community."

Dr. Moody said, "The college will use the campus in Palm Beach, Oades is ready." Dr. Moody said, "However we won't build until we have sufficient funds for construction."
